

Step 1: Log in/create an account to Big Interview (note: you will need to use your UConn e-mail address to create an account and the resource operates best in Google Chrome)

Step 2: Click on “Practice” in the top tool bar and then select the “Practice Interviews” option

Step 3: From the mock interview menu, select “Industry”, then click on “Art & Design”, and select the job title you wish to interview for Step 4: Once you have selected the interview you wish to complete Big Interview will prompt you to select whether you wish to incorporate Artificial Intelligence tracking into your practice interview. The AI system will assess interview performance characteristics such as eye-contact, rate of speech, use of filler words, etc. and provide feedback on these elements at the end of your interview. If you wish to utilize this function, select “Continue to Eye Tracking Calibration” and follow the calibration steps provided. If you do not wish to utilize this function, click on “Practice without Eye Tracking”.

For best AI feedback results, please read the instructions below.

- Record in a quiet environment without any distractions.
- Ensure that there is enough light in the room.
- Check your posture and aim for natural, consistent eye contact.

Please Note: Only recordings of 30 seconds or more can be analyzed.
